Roller skating is freedom.

It's an expression on what's possible in the world of impossible.

Wheels on your feet.

Shoes of the future.

When you're at the edge of the world, about to drop in, your adrenaline is pumping, your friends are cheering, there's no other feeling than trusting your body, mind, soul to take you to the other side.

is a roller skating hub for all things wheels and initially created by Dorsa Vaziri as a way to track the inspiration, Wow Rolling has now turned into a big and growth of Wow Rolling:

like-minded, hard working, creative, talented, My goals with WOW Rolling are to share any and with others, cheer them on in their goals, and together in our wildly busy world. There's no better for hours on end, sweating in the Florida sun on a goals and being inspired by others all in one skate table online, for people starting out with questions to share my experiences. I've started building more accessible and allow more unique expression something more grounded. We're getting an to come, but follow along on Instagram to stay excited to offer a space where skaters can not only all have a home.

RED RIVER

I felt my skin tingling for so long tried to fight to hold on but now it's gone the way they burnt me capitalistic loyalties bring catastrophe, till they're building on my ash and bone I used to grow wild like the rivers, like the Nile this betrayal is such a familial trial selfish acts, ungrateful child even the preachers had to lay waste to all I ever gave Eve was never the one to blame and all my hair is smoking like the barrels of the guns you're all holding confess to it or not all choking on sertraline, aspartame society all your prayers have expensive taste so self indulgent, only fight for a cause when you have press to gain scared kids only friend is a razor blade waving fucking signs every night think it's cry wolf in the digital age I'll take a fucking axe to their fences just like they did my limbs and their blood will replenish the wells in my stomach they had forcefully purged to fuel their new age inventions there is no repentance for 7.5 billion up against celestial vengeance

writer's note

Red River is a piece that I wrote sometime during quarantine, while reflecting on all the madness happening around the world in 2020. It's a commentary on the state of the world, with the narrator being a personified version of Mother Nature/some form of celestial being.

Grant and Ray of Infinite Zion Farms

Meet Grant of In Situ Greenhouses:

I'm here to help Orlando grow! I linked up with Ray from Infinite Zion in 2020 and we immediately bonded with mutual recognition and respect. I offered Ray my knowledge and resources towards his mission in Parramore and we got to work. I'm quite proud of the impact I was able to provide to his farm with the addition of this greenhouse.

Infinite Zion Mission:

Infinite Zion Farms, an alliance of African American urban farmers in Central Florida. Our mission is to provide low-income communities access to affordable organic produce and nutritional education while building economic bridges to minority farmers and minority owned-businesses within our community.

As African American Farmers, we have been successful at engaging our Parramore neighbors on the farm. We grow produce that has a market in this community, and we educate young people on farming and sustainability practices that are both appropriate for the urban farm and have been practiced for generations by black farmers.
